CBLK Token — Technical Overview & Litepaper

Fast. Secure. Solana-Powered.

1. Introduction

CodeBlack (CBLK) is a Solana-based payment token designed to power fast, low-cost transactions within the CodeBlack ecosystem, hosted at codeblack.blacksky.live. Built on the Solana blockchain, CBLK leverages Solana's high throughput and sub-second finality to enable seamless digital payments.

2. Mission

The CodeBlack token exists to provide a native payment layer for the CodeBlack platform. CBLK enables direct peer-to-peer value transfer with minimal fees, eliminating reliance on traditional payment intermediaries and providing users with full custody of their funds.

3. Technology

CBLK is implemented as a Solana SPL Token — the standard fungible token program on the Solana blockchain. Solana provides:

- 65,000+ transactions per second
- Sub-second transaction finality
- Average transaction cost under $0.001
- Proof of History consensus mechanism

4. Security

CBLK has been deployed with maximum trust guarantees. The mint authority has been permanently revoked, meaning no additional tokens can ever be created beyond the fixed supply of 666,000 CBLK. The freeze authority is disabled, ensuring no account can be frozen or restricted by any party.

5. Use Cases

- Platform payments at codeblack.blacksky.live
- Peer-to-peer value transfer
- Ecosystem incentives and rewards
- Decentralized exchange trading via Meteora
